

LAW OF THE REPUBLIC OF VANUATU
Consolidated Edition 2006

LABOUR (WORK PERMITS) (statutory orders)

[CAP.187]

Commencement 22 September 1997

DECLARATION OF RESERVED OCCUPATIONS

Published Gazette No 25 of 1997

[The Minister for the time being responsible for Labour Relations declared] the occupations of

1. Typist
2. Clerical supervisor
3. Receptionist
4. Hotel receptionist
5. Waiter /Waitress/Bartender
6. House maid /Domestic Worker
7. Street Vendor
8. Dock Worker
9. Freight Handler
10. Earth Moving and related Machinery operators
11. Driver
12. Bus Driver
13. Lorry and Van Driver
14. Boatswain
15. Able Seaman/Ordinary Seaman
16. Carpenter
17. Joiner
18. Cashier
19. Construction Site Foreman
20. General Mechanic
21. General Electrician
22. General Plumber
23. Hairdresser
24. Engineer

As reserved occupations to be effective from the date hereof

Further particulars on the above reserved occupations are provided in the schedule annexed hereto

BOATSWAIN:	Supervises deck ratings engaged on clearing and maintenance work on board ships (except engine room) such as inspection of life-saving equipment, cargo-handling supervision and supervises crewmen on maintenance work etc., on local inter-island vessels.
ABLES SEAMAN/ ORDINARY SEAMEN	Serves as senior at ordinary deck-hand of local sea going vessels may assist in stowing and discharging at cargo
CARPENTER: AND JOINER	Workers in this group provide shape assemble and maintain and various types of wooden structures and fittings.
CASHIER:	A person who performs the duties as a cashier, customer assistance, clerical/bookkeeping and supervisory functions for a shop.
CONSTRUCTION: SITE FOREMAN	A worker or tradesman who is in charge of a construction crew typically the foreman is a person with specialized knowledge of a given trade with many years of experience in a particular trade which is charged with organizing the overall construction of a particular of a particular project.
GENERAL MECHANIC:	A person who is responsible for diagnosing and fixing mechanical issues with equipments such as mowers, tractors, water pumps etc, a person who performs tune-ups welding and other metals and maintain a file about his or her work and is required to-do general care work such as tire rotation, oil changes and installation of new brake pads.
GENERAL ELECTRICIAN:	A person who under general supervision performs journey level work design, installation, construction, modification, repair and maintenance of electrical apparatus, equipment and systems.
GENERAL PLUMBER:	Perform general plumbing work including installing storm water, water piping systems, assembling and installing pipes and fix broken pipe or drainage system.
HAIRDRESSER:	A person who provides beauty services such as shampooing, cutting, colouring and styling hair and massaging and treating scalp, also straightens as well as permanently wave hair.
ENGINEER:	A person who is trained and skilled in design construction use of engines or machines or in any of various branches of engineering"